HOW TO WIN A GUY IN 1 HOUR WITHOUT EVEN TRYING

LISA stands center stage. Behind her a bar scene. Men and women sit talking and drinking. She addresses the audience.

LISA
Good evening, Ladies! I am your trusty dating expert, Lisa! And I am here to tell you ’How to Win a Guy in 1 Hour"! Now, I’ve been just like you: single, aging, clinically suicidal, afraid I might never find the one! I’ve spent my whole life reading Cosmo, YM, Seventeen... The Works! But nothing ever really offered me a clear-cut method for finding my happily ever after, so I’ve invented my own!

First things first, I never go anywhere without Ruphenol.

She pulls a pill out of her pocket and holds it up for the audience.

LISA
but we call them roofies for short BECAUSE IT’S CUTE!

Lisa walks over and drops the pill into a drink that sits in front of one of the men at the bar.

He takes a sip, not noticing her, and drops to the floor like a sack of date-raped potatoes.

Lisa walks over and gets on top of him. He is still conscious and he fights back. She struggles, wrestling him as she speaks.

LISA
Be fair warned. He is too strong and will over power you (she covers her mouth as if telling a secret) unless you’re into the little ones. So you must make sure to bring a small weapon so you can violently beat him if need be.

She bashes him in the head with a club until he falls unconscious. She checks his pulse with great focus and determines that he is alive. She is elated.

LISA
You don’t want to kill him! Just incapacitate him for long enough to drag him to your car and put him in your trunk.

Lisa drags the man into her car and gets in the driver’s seat. She begins driving and then parks in her driveway.

LISA
Once you’re home safely, remove him from your trunk. You can be sloppy as you pull him out of the trunk because he will be heavily sedated and unable to experience pain.

Pull him by the feet. This will drag his head on the ground, but it’s better for your back, and your health comes first!

She drags the man into her house and props him up on a chair. He is very groggy and off-balance. She ties a gag around his mouth.

LISA
Excellent! Now you’re inside with your new husband to be! Love knows no bounds, but you WILL have to bound and gag this man to keep him safe and sound with you. In the first few days, he may have false hope that he will be able to contact his loved ones to "rescue" him. And you should be prepared for them to look for him, but have no fear,within a matter of months, they will presume him dead.

LISA
Now get out there, girls, and find The One!
